For Immediate Release: February 24, 2004

1st Student Focus Group Meeting for Common Dress—James Lick High School

East Side Union High School Board Member Patricia Martinez-Roach will be facilitating the first student focus group meeting on common dress. The meeting will take place at James Lick High School on Monday, March 1, 2004, at 4:00 p.m. in the Career Center. Students are invited to participate in meaningful discussion regarding one of several strategies to improve student safety. “I would like to hear from our East Side Union High School District students regarding the pro’s and con’s of common dress,” stated Ms. Martinez-Roach.

Ms. Martinez-Roach is the host of monthly East Side Union High School District student meetings. At these meetings she listens to student concerns and shares information to students, and seeks to find solutions to the many problems facing our student population.

In the near future, student focus group meetings will be held on every East Side Union High School District campus whereby students can voice their concerns and give valuable input regarding this problem. “I encourage all of our students to speak up about their concerns, so we can make safe campuses a reality,” said Superintendent Esperanza Zendejas, Ed.D.
